ABOUT JARIUS

A photograph of Jarius Newman, a young Black man, performing on stage. He is wearing a white t-shirt under a colorful, patterned short-sleeved shirt, black pants, and black sneakers with white soles. He is holding a vintage-style microphone and singing with his mouth open. In the background, other performers in costumes are visible, and the stage is lit with purple and blue lights.

Jarius Newman (he/him) is a Northwest Indiana native with an unshakable passion for performance and storytelling. From singing with his brother in church to commanding the stage in local theaters, Jarius has always found his way into the spotlight.

A proud graduate of Ball State University's Musical Theatre program (Class of 2025), Jarius is now chasing the dreams that once lived in the heart of a little boy who dared to dream big. Every note he sings, every role he plays, is rooted in the joy and determination that got him here.

Offstage, Jarius lives life with sparkle and laughter. He's a lover of bold fashion, heartfelt family time, Real Housewives marathons (glass of wine included), and cozy nights with board games or romcoms.

As a proud member of the BIPOC and LGBTQ+ communities, Jarius infuses his identity into every role and performance. He believes in the power of theatre to heal, uplift, and transform—and is committed to amplifying underrepresented stories that deserve center stage. Catch Jarius lighting up theaters across the U.S.—and check back often for updates on current and upcoming projects!
